Make Your Vacation Exotic: Cycling in Bangkok countryside

Bangkok, Thailand, July 14, 2008 –Visitors to the city of angle now have an exciting way to experience Bangkok's hideaways--via bicycle.

Thailand Green Ride offers visitors recreational style half-day, day and overnight bicycle tours in Bangkok and countryside. We now offer four tours for visitors from different ages and skill levels:

Tawi Wattana's Charms is a half day bicycle tour through a land of canals, smiling people, rice fields, orchid and vegetable farms. You will visit local wet market, traditional Thai wooden house and a beautiful green park of Phutta Monton, the biggest Buddhist site in the world. Visit Thonburi Market, a market selling agriculture products, gardening, pets, orchids or handmade products and it is a twin to the famous Jatujak weekend market only that this market is for local people.

Tawi Wattana Weekend is a one day bicycle tour extended from Tawi Wattana's Charms. You will ride through places described in Tawi Wattana's Charms then extend our tour to a floating market. Take a boat and cruise through lands of farms and plantations, stop at fruit plantation to observe how farmers keep their plants and try fruit fresh from farms. Then visit to a house of museum to get the touch and feel of Bangkok dating back 50 years ago.

Donwai Delight, a one bicycle day tour through old community of canal dwellers, lotus fields, orchid farms. Stop at grapefruit farm, hop on an E-Tan to cruise through fruit plantation and rice field. Visit to Donwai market, the old riverside market that still retains an appearance of a market dating back some 100 years ago. Try Thai food and sweets. Take a kayak and paddle to visit farmer houses which some of them are over 100 years old. Seasonal fresh fruits will be offered fresh from farm.

The Quest For Hidden Thainess is a 3 days/ 2 nights bicycle tour highlighting hidden treasures of Thailand. You will ride through exotic scenes, villager's backyards, rice fields and fruits plantations and unseen in Thailand attraction. You will travel waterway to observe authentic lifestyle, night floating market, fireflies sightseeing, visit the famous Damnoensaduak floating markets. Your accommodation will be a villager's home so you can experience Thai way of life in a close distance you never imagine. Traditional Thai food will be served and you can join in the kitchen to learn how to cook Thai food.

"We have partnered with numerous local farmers, villagers and organizations to provide the best overall experience for visitors," said Parichat Suntararak, co-founder of Thailand Green Ride. "Our knowledgeable and friendly licensed tour guides are ready to provide the most fun, informative, safest and unique experience for visitors".

Each tour is an interactive adventure that shows visitors Bangkok and Thailand they can't get from a guide book or other means of transportation.
